

TESTIMONIALS FOR MAKING MEANING ONSCREEN WORKSHOPS:

I was able to really get a grasp of how to structure this work for students. I especially liked the way the story board focused the task and brought together all the elements.

Glenda Burke, Faculty Head English, International School, Singapore.

Excellent! The whole pre-prod area gave me ideas on how to tighten up the whole filming process.

Lorne Smith, Aldavilla PS.

My confidence to explore video and the processes involved has greatly improved as a result of the 2 day inservice.

Very interactive and sequential, and heaps of fun!

Lilly Prothero, Eastwood Heights PS.

All aspects were well-covered in workshop – I feel a lot more prepared to teach this in my Drama teaching.

Aine De Paor, Drama Teacher, Moriah College.

Excellent presentation of visualising ideas in a practical sense, logical sequencing. I enjoyed the clarity of presentation and relaxed atmosphere.

Irene Whitten, Visual Arts, Moriah College

Great Work. I have learnt a lot!

Stephen Lowther, Ascham School.

It was good to have the importance of the pre-production stage stressed and broken into parts.

Anon

Great – lots of ideas to use the classroom. Gave me more confidence to start making films with junior classes.

Milica Peric, English/Drama, Sydney Technical High School.

Thank you! I will take away a lot of useful insights.

Melanie Hughes, Australian Independent Schools.

I needed this. Excellent and very valuable.

Jason Arruzza, Australian Independent Schools

This is a remarkable approach to the industry and pedagogy for the K-12 classroom. Myself and my staff can use all elements of the instruction. I particularly liked how we were focussed on the practical application of each step. Thank you!

Mantaliga, Meanprasatvittaya School. Bangkok.

Fantastic, great to organise/structure work. Clearly explained/demonstrated. Thank you for the opportunity to try them out. Wonderful program. A very worthwhile experience, learnt a lot, has been motivational. Will use learnt techniques with my students.

Tanya Bajda, Aldavilla PS.
